

The Old Woman and the Pig

An old woman found a sixpence.
She wanted a pig.
She said,
"I can get a pig.
I can get a pig with the sixpence."
And she did.

stick stick

fire fire fire

water water

drink drink

rope rope

gnow gnow

cheese

PREVIEW

Matching

stick

fire

water

ox

butcher

rope

cheese

An old woman found a sixpence.

PREVIEW

And the old woman got home that night.

An old woman found a sixpence.
She wanted a pig.

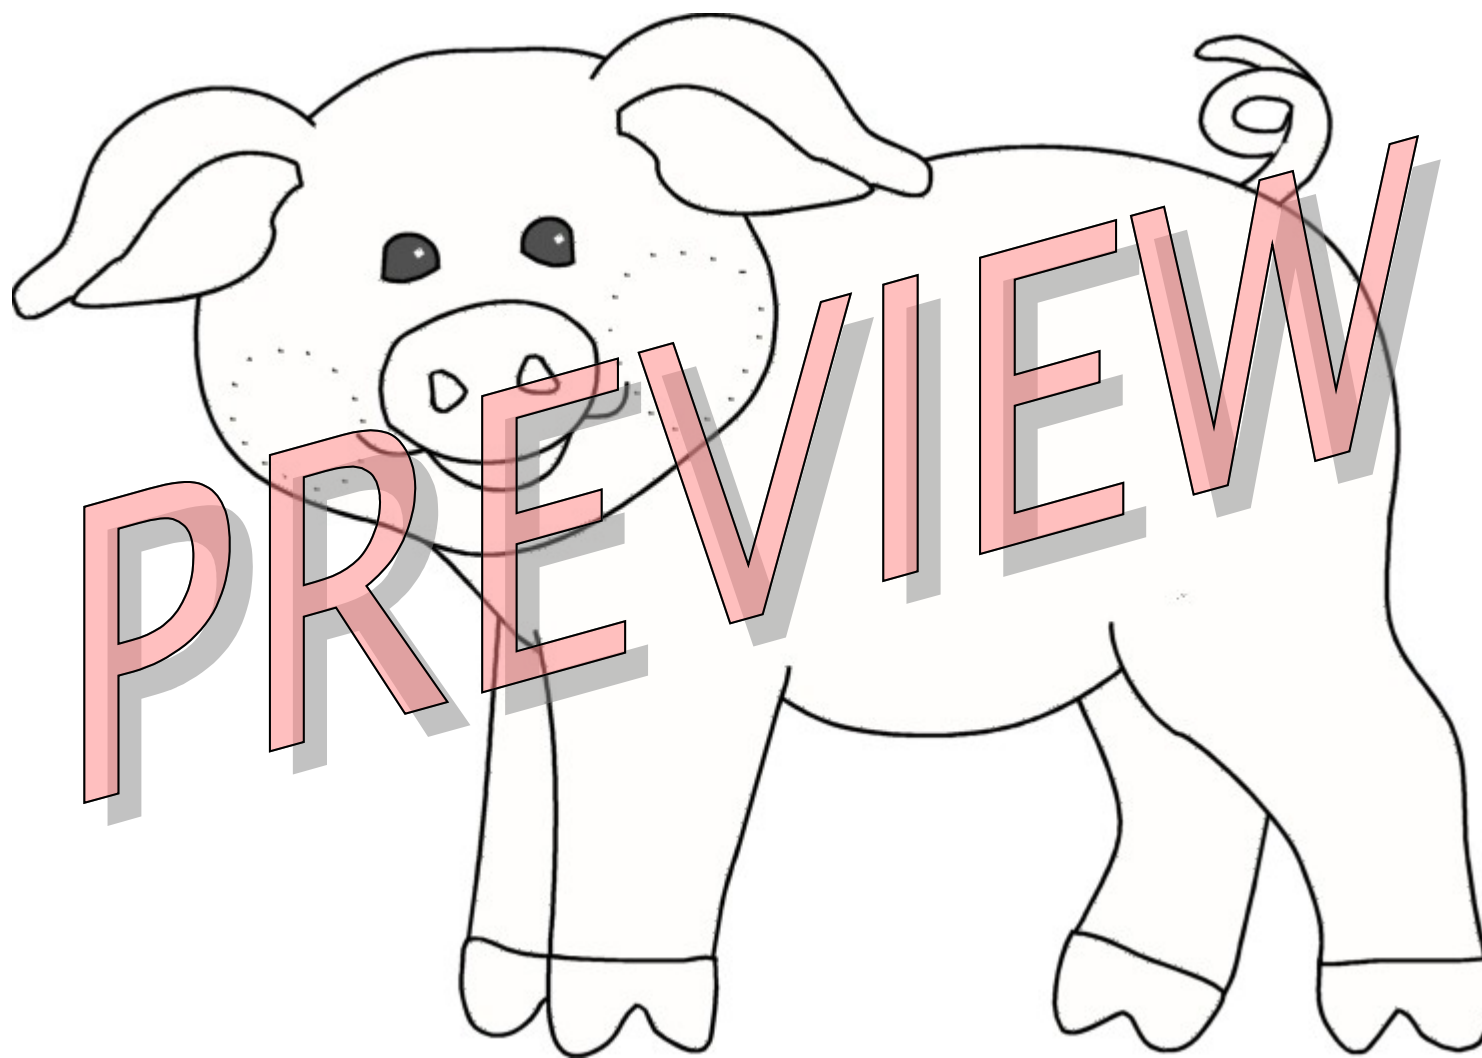

The pig said,
"I won't get over the stile."

The dog said,
"I won't bite pig."

The stick said,
"I won't beat dog."

The copytext for this on-line edition is READING-LITERATURE THE PRIMER, adapted and graded by Harriette Taylor Treadwell and Margaret Free, illustrated by Frederik Richardson, Evanston: Row, Peterson & Company, 1910. It is in the public domain in the United States.

